HISTORY

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts began providing for its needy veterans immediately following the Revolutionary War. At the start of the Civil War in 1861, the state legislature formalized the assistance provided to veterans by establishing M.G.L. Chapter 115 and the Department of Veterans' Services. State and local government leaders wanted to provide benefits to men and women (both living and deceased) who had borne the burden of military duty—and to their families. Chapter 115 enables every eligible Massachusetts veteran to receive certain financial, medical, educational, employment, and other benefits earned by military service. Veterans' Service Officers (VSO) in 351 municipalities across the state help veterans and families connect with benefits.

The VSO is your first point of contact to access state Chapter 115 benefits. Appointed by the mayors or selectmen of the cities and towns, the VSO interviews applicants, determines eligibility, and administers benefits. VSOs are available to anyone seeking information or assistance in the area of veterans' benefits and services. They may be reached at their City/Town Halls.

The support that the Commonwealth gives to a deserving segment of the population through the locally based veterans' assistance programs is unlike that of any other in the nation and the envy of other states.

VETERANS' SERVICE OFFICERS

Your first point of contact.

For more than 100 years, a Veterans' Service Officer (VSO) has been available in every Massachusetts city and town to provide an array of services to veterans and their dependents. VSOs are municipal employees with expert knowledge of federal, state, and local resources and benefits for veterans. Your VSO is your first point of contact to access state Chapter 115 benefits.

Your VSO can provide information about:

- annuities
- awards and medals
- burial
- Chapter 115 benefits
- education
- elder services
- employment
- flags and markers
- financial assistance
- food
- graves care
- housing
- license plates
- medical assistance
- pensions
- pharmaceuticals
- real estate tax exemption
- review of discharge
- sales tax exemptions

In addition, DVS represents all state agencies and individual veterans before the federal Department of Veterans Affairs in securing federal compensation and other available benefits.
